

LEVERAGING SUSTAINABLE PROCUREMENT PRACTICES TO TRANSFORM TOURISM VALUE CHAINS

AGENDA

October 30th, 2018

Paris, France

UN Environment will bring together purchasing and sustainability professionals, as well as experts from the hospitality sector in order to share, discuss, and spread the best sustainable procurement practices across the tourism value chain. Participants will have the opportunity to discuss and share their success stories and the challenges and risks they encountered while implementing sustainable procurement practices and review mitigation solutions. The one-day workshop will be interactive as attendees will be able to actively participate in the following:

- Case Studies Session – buyers from the hospitality sector will present a success story on the inclusion of sustainability concerns in procurement practices, highlighting lessons learned and major issues encountered;
- Deep Dive Session – attendees will have the opportunity to select a procurement priority or theme and have a peer to peer discussion on potential alternatives and solutions to address issues identified during the Case Studies Session;

In addition, a number of interventions from experts on key products/ services (e.g. refrigeration and cooling, plastics, food), as well on circular procurement will bring relevant food-for-thought and a wider perspective to the efforts made by the procurement community towards reaching the objectives of the 2030 Agenda and the Paris Agreement as well as other resource efficiency-related objectives.

Following the experts' group workshop on “Leveraging sustainable procurement practices to transform tourism value chains”, UN Environment will publish and disseminate a compendium highlighting the key takeaways from the workshop including recommendations/high level principles on how best to implement sustainable procurement practices in the hospitality industry and case studies illustrating how sustainable procurement contributes to the reduction of GHG emissions, and improves resource efficiency.
